ANDREW H. GREEN SHOT AND KILLED

Murdered on the Threshold of His Home by Insane Negro.

FATHER OF GREATER NEW YORK

New York, Nov. 14.—Andrew H. Green, the "Father of Greater New York," and one of the city's oldest and most remarkable citizens, was shot and instantly killed on the steps of his home, on Park avenue, by Cornelius M. Williams, a negro, who is believed to be insane.

The shooting was evidently the outcome of an insane delusion on the part of the negro that Mr. Green had slandered him, for, when he was asked why he had committed the murder, he replied: "I did it to save my character."

There were three witnesses of the tragedy, Mrs. Anna Bray, a domestic in Mr. Green's family; Emil Michelsen, an errand boy, and Patrick Dyer, a cabman. According to these witnesses, the negro must have been waiting for Mr. Green to come home from his office. When he alighted from a car, in the tunnel at Fortieth street, he walked slowly towards his residence, almost directly across the street. The negro was standing in the vestibule of the house, and as Mr. Green started to ascend the steps leading to the hall door, Williams advanced to[ward] him. There was a brief interchange of words, and then the negro drew a revolver and fired five shots in quick succession. Mr. Green sank to the pavement, blood streaming from his head, while his murderer, drawing the revolver to his pocket, leaned against the railing of the stoop, awaiting arrest.

[Tho]mas H. Burns, carriage starter at the Murray Hill Hotel, was one of the first to reach the negro, whom he saw that he was about to walk away [and] turned over to a policeman and a [few] who were rushed up a moment later. A physician was on the spot almost immediately and pronounced Mr. Green to be dead. As the negro's victim fell, a young woman rushed out of the house and took the dead or dying man's head in her lap, at the same time calling upon him, in piteous tones, to speak to her. As she tried in vain to get a response, Williams turned upon his victim and shouted:

"Damn you, I told you I would get even with you."

One of the negro's bullets imbedded itself in the ceiling of the vestibule. It is believed that all of the others took effect. A cursory examination by a physician and the coroner revealed one wound in the left side of the head, one in the left temple and another at the base of the brain. Any one was sufficient to cause death.

Williams appeared to be perfectly self-possessed and acted as though he felt he had performed a meritorious deed. He is a well-built man, of average height, and of not unpleasant features. The prisoner answered, without hesitation or any show of irritation, all questions put to him and spoke like a man firm in the conviction that he had been deeply wronged by the man he had murdered.

He told a rambling story about a colored woman, Mrs. Bessie Davis, who, until about four months ago, kept a lodging house for negroes in West 53d street, who, he said, had circulated statements derogatory to his character, and against whom he had been trying to bring suit for $20,000 for slander. The trouble, he said, dated back to the year 1895, when he was one of her lodgers. Her stories reached the congregation of the Mount Olive Church, of which he was an attendant, and he was forced to give up his membership there because his fellow worshippers pointed the finger of scorn at him. Her slanders, continuing over eight years, cost him nearly all his friends.

"I'm not sorry I shot him," exclaimed the prisoner "he got what he deserved. I may not be justified by society, but I'm justified in the eyes of God. I'm willing to go to the electric chair, if necessary, to vindicate my character."

$1,500,000 For Missions.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17.—The general missionary committee of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which has been in conference for a week, closed after appropriating sums for the foreign and home work aggregating over $1,500,000. When all the appropriations were made it was found that the amount available had been over appropriated by $33,000. That amount was voted out of the incidental and contingent funds to supply the deficiency, those funds to be later reimbursed from last year's balance, which amounted to $41,000. Boston was chosen as the place for holding the conference next year.

Charges Against Judge Kirkpatrick.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Charges were filed with Speaker Cannon by James W. M. Newlin against Andrew Kirkpatrick, United States district judge of New Jersey. The impeachment of Judge Kirkpatrick is asked on the ground that "he has brought the administration of justice into contempt through his being the acting president of a trading corporation." The charges were referred to the judiciary committee.

To Consider American Affairs Dec. 7.

Rome, Nov. 16.—In Vatican circles it is expected that the first meeting of the Congregation of the Propaganda in which American affairs will be discussed will be held December 7, when an archbishop of Milwaukee and a bishop of Columbus will be selected.

DEBATE ON CUBAN BILL

Payne, Williams, Swanson and Robinson Make Speeches.

Washington, Nov. 17. — The house has made a fair start on the legislation for which it was convoked in special session, adopting a rule under which a vote will be taken at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon on the bill to make the Cuban reciprocity treaty effective and entering on debate of the Cuban bill. The short debate which preceded adoption of the rule was followed by several speeches on the merits of the measure. Mr. Payne opened the debate in a speech whose key note was that the measure would not affect injuriously sugar, tobacco or any other interests, and was demanded by national honor and good faith.

For the minority, Representatives Williams, of Mississippi; Swanzon, of Virginia, and Robinson, of Indiana, made speeches criticising the Republicans for their tariff policy and the excessive taxation of the public. Mr. Swanson predicted danger to our foreign commerce from higher foreign tariffs unless we initiated tariff reform and declared the tariff question again would become a burning political issue.

A DEMOCRATIC CAUCUS

Members of Senate Unable to Agree On Canal Legislation.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Democratic members of the senate caucused, but were unable to get together on a program as to canal legislation. Four distinct propositions were submitted in the form of resolutions, and many other suggestions were made informally, but no agreement could be reached and the caucus adjourned to meet again on call of Senator Gorman, chairman. Several senators in leaving the caucus bitterly complained of the lack of harmony which prevailed, and compared the Democratic position with the attitude of the Republicans, who, they said, with twice as many representatives had not a straggler, while hardly two Democrats were of the same opinion. Senator Gorman said of the caucus: "It was our first pow wow, in which we all talked and will do our thinking afterward."

TWENTY-EIGHT DEAD IN WRECK

Express Crashes Into Local Train Filled With Negroes.

New Orleans, Nov. 16.—A rear-end collision on the Illinois Central Railroad, near Kentwood, La., 84 miles from New Orleans, resulted in the killing of 28 negroes. Ten other negroes and three white men were injured, some of them fatally. The collision was between the McComb City accommodation train and the northern express bound to Chicago.

The accommodation train should have side-tracked to let the express go by, but got behind before it reached Kentwood. Near that station the express ran the accommodation down. The rear coach of the accommodation, filled with negroes, many of them section hands who had been picked up on the way, was completely wrecked. The engine of the express did not leave the track, and after an hour's delay the through train proceed on her way.

BECHTELS' HABEAS CORPUS PLEA

Court at Allentown Asked to Liberate Babel's Brothers.

Allentown, Pa., Nov. 16.—Ex-Mayor Schaadt applied for a writ of habeas corpus for the release from jail of John and Charles Bechtel, accused by the coroner's jury of being accessories after the fact in the murder of their sister, Mabel.

Mr. Schaadt said: "My clients are accused of being implicated in a great crime. This implication we deny. We now want to know whether the commonwealth can produce sufficient evidence to hold them."

Judge Trexler will hold the hearing next Friday morning.

Lord Kitchener Badly Injured.

Simla, India, Nov. 17.—Lord Kitchener, commander-in-chief of the British forces in India, has met with a serious accident while riding home alone from a country house near here. As he was passing through a tunnel his horse became frightened and collided with the walled side. One of Lord Kitchener's legs was broken in two places. Some time afterward coolies passing through the tunnel found the commander-in-chief lying there helpless and brought him to Simla. He is now reported to be doing well. The broken bones have been set, and after having passed a good night the general is in a cheerful mood.

Biltmore Estate Leased.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 14.—The deal which has been pending for some time between George W. Vanderbilt and Edgar B. Moore, of Kenilworth, for the lease of the Biltmore estate, has been completed. With the exception of 1000 acres immediately surrounding the Biltmore mansion, Mr. Moore will have control for 10 years of an area of 125,000 acres. This tract of land will be converted into hunting preserves. A club of 100 wealthy members will be formed by Mr. Moore for the purpose of hunting and fishing on the estate, and poaching will be prevented by a staff of rangers and guards.

The Kaiser Can Now Whisper.

Berlin, Nov. 16.—A bulletin issued from the new palace at Potsdam regarding the condition of Emperor William, says the wound is nearly healed and that the emperor has been permitted to whisper freely. The next bulletin will be issued tomorrow.

Fatal Fire at Reading, Pa.

Reading, Pa., Nov. 16.—The bicycle vulcanizing shop of Edward Dehart was destroyed by fire, and Dehart, who was sleeping in the place, perished in the flames. He was 29 years of age. The origin of the fire is not known

SENATOR DIETRICH UNDER INDICTMENT

Charged With Accepting $1300 For Postal Appointment.

FOUR OTHER CASES PENDING

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 17.—The federal grand jury has returned true bills against United States Senator Charles H. Dietrich and Postmaster Jacob Fisher, of Hastings, Neb., charging them with conspiracy and bribery in connection with the appointment of Fisher to the position of postmaster. When the indictments were brought into the United States District Court, Judge Munger presiding, and were placed on file the court merely accepted the report of the grand jury, making no remarks on its contents beyond making an order to the clerk for filing of the bills.

The indictment against Senator Dietrich charges that he accepted money and property in consideration of his recommending Fisher for appointment as postmaster at Hastings. That against Postmaster Fisher charges him with making an agreement with Senator Dietrich by which the former was to pay in property and money $1300 for securing to Fisher the appointment.

The last witness called before the grand jury was William Dutton, a hardware merchant of Hastings. According to Dutton's testimony he (Dutton) acted as intermediary in all the alleged transactions between the indicted men, and after hearing his evidence the grand jury excused the remaining witnesses who had not testified and at once prepared its report to Judge Munger.

Four other cases, said to be of a similar nature, are being investigated by the grand jury, and a report on all or part of them is expected very soon. All are cases in which postoffices and postmasters are concerned.

This indictment is said to be the first ever returned against a United States senator on charges of this nature, and caused intense excitement in government official circles in Omaha and in adjoining towns when it became public. What action will be taken, if any, to apprehend Senator Dietrich, could not be learned.

The section under which the indictments are drawn is Section 1781 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, which provides that every member of congress or any officer or agent of the government who accepts any money or other valuable consideration from any person procuring or aiding to procure any contract for office from the government from any person whatever shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be imprisoned for not more than two years and fined not more than $2000, and any such contract or agreement may, at the option of the president, be declared absolutely null and void, and any member of congress or any officer convicted of a violation of this section shall be disqualified from holding any office of honor, profit or trust under the government of the United States.

Result of Political Quarrel.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Senator Dietrich and Editor Rosewater, of the Omaha Bee, arrived in this city, and all inquirers as to the indictment of the senator were referred to Mr. Rosewater, who declared that the indictments were the result of a political quarrel. Mr. Rosewater asserted that Senator Dietrich had a good defense, and added that he and the senator had come to Washington at this time to bring about the removal of District Attorney Somers. Mr. Rosewater declared that District Attorney Sommers had pushed the charges against Senator Dietrich for the reason that they were politically antagonistic.

SITES FOR ZION CITIES

Dowie Is Offered 4,000,000 Acres For One and Another Near New York.

Chicago, Nov. 16.—"I have just received an offer of 4,000,000 acres of land on which to build another Zion City, but the site must be kept secret at present," said John Alexander Dowie, speaking to his followers in Shiloh Tabernacle, Zion City.

"What is more," Dowie continued, "I have an offer of 10,000 acres of land within 35 miles of New York city for the same purpose. That does not look as if the New York trip failed, does it? I am going abroad January 3, after men and money," he said. "When I get back in June I will have planned a number of Zions. Then all Zion will start its work for building up Jerusalem."

Resigns Pulpit to Go Into Business.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 16.—Rev. Richard S. Holmes, for 16 years pastor of the Shadyside Presbyterian Church, one of the leading churches of that denomination in the city, has tendered his resignation, to take effect June 30, 1904. Mr. Holmes will not discuss his action further than to say that he intends to go into business after his retirement from the pulpit. Rev. Holmes was prominently before the last general assembly as a candidate for moderator and for many years has stood high in church circles.

Mad Dog Ran Amuck.

Harrisburg, Nov. 17.—A dog supposed to be mad ran amuck through the streets of Steelton and Lochiel, and is said to have bitten a dozen people, three in Lochiel, and the others in Steelton and along the pike as it fled, pursued by a crowd. All of the victims were bitten in the hands and one will be sent to Pasteur Institute. Seven dogs bitten by the mad animal will be killed, but the rabid dog escaped in a swamp.

COLOMBIA SENDS PROTEST TO SENATE

Strongly Objects to Our Recognition of Panama Republic.

REFERRED TO SECRETARY HAY

Washington, Nov. 12.—The protest of the Columbian government against the recognition by the United States of the independence of Panama has been received by Senator Fry as president pro tempore of the senate. The document was not laid before the senate because of the diplomatic requirement that it should be transmitted through the secretary of state. It is in Spanish and Senator Frye had it translated with a view to transmitting it to Secretary Hay. It will be sent to the secretary with the request that it be speedily returned, when Senator Frye will lay it before the senate. It is addressed to the United States senate and it as follows:

"To His Excellency, the President of the Senate, Washington: Excellency: The government and people of Colombia have been painfully surprised at the notification given by the minister of the United States to the effect that the government at Washington had hastened to recognize the government consequent upon a barracks coup in the department of Panama.

"The bonds of sincere and uninterrupted friendship which unite the two governments and the two peoples; the solemn obligation undertaken by the American Union in a public treaty to guarantee the sovereignty and property of Colombia in the isthmus of Panama; the protection which the citizens of that country enjoy and will continue to enjoy among us; the traditional principles of the American government in opposition to secession movements; the good faith which has characterized that great people in its international relations; the manner in which the revolution was brought about, and the precipitancy of its recognition make the government and people of Colombia hope that the senate of the people of the United States will admit their obligation to assist us in maintaining the integrity of our territory and in repressing that insurrection which is not even the result of a popular feeling.

"In thus demanding justice, Colombia appeals to the dignity and honor of the American senate and people.

"Marroquin.

"It is to be hoped that the petition for justice which Columbia makes to the American people will be favorably received by a sound public opinion among the sons of that country.

"Minister of Government.

"Esteban Jaramillo."

The action of President Marroquin in sending a protest to the United States senate is regarded by diplomats here as a serious breach of the proprieties, but the matter probably will not be dealt with in a harsh manner.

FRANCE RECOGNIZES PANAMA

Morgan & Co. Appointed Financial Agents of New Republic.

Washington, Nov. 17.—In a note addressed to M. Bunau-Varilla as minister plenipotentiary and envoy extraordinary of the Republic of the Isthmus, M. Jusserand, the French ambassador, officially recognized the new envoy and informed him he would be received at the embassy by his excellency and duly recognized. The ambassador's action is in accordance with a cablegram received from the French foreign office.

The minister announced that J. Pierpont Morgan & Co. had accepted the appointment as financial agents in the United States of the Panama Republic, and that $300,000 had been placed to the credit of the Panama government.

The minister received by cable full powers from his government to address the envoys of all the powers represented at Washington and request recognition at their hands.

Killed by His Own Gun.

Charleston, S. C., Nov. 17.—Colonel E. Miller Boykin, United States marshal for this state under Cleveland, and a leading banker of Camden, killed himself accidentally. After reaching home he picked up his gun, which had a complicated reversible action and went out to shoot a hawk. He was discovered an hour afterward lying dead, while his gun was found leaning on the opposite of the fence. It is supposed that as he started to climb the fence he set the gun over the fence, at the same time making a motion to get over himself when the gun was discharged, and such was the verdict of the coroner's jury.

Beavers Transfers His Property.

New York, Nov. 16.—Notice of the conveyance by George W. Beavers, the former superintendent of the department of salaries and allowances of the postoffice department, who is now under indictment for connection with frauds in the department, of his property to his wife, has been made known. The property conveyed lies in the section of Brooklyn known as Borough Park, and consists of 15 lots. The transfer was made for a nominal consideration, and the papers were recorded in the office of the register of Kings county.

Awoke From Fifteen-Year Trance.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—Sesine Meyer, the girl who had lain since December 27, 1888, in a trance-like sleep, awoke in the village of Grambke, near Bremen, during the clanging of fire bells. Her case had long interested physicians, and had been the subject of various experiments.

TO TEST NEW JERSEY GAME LAW

Philadelphian Fined $112.40 For Carrying Rabbits Out of the State.

Camden, N. J., Nov. 17. — Former Judge Carrow instituted certiorari proceedings in the Camden county court to compel Justice of the Peace Barr to show cause for fining Dr. J. H. O'Connor, of Philadelphia $112.40 for carrying game out of New Jersey.

This case is practically a test of the constitutionality of the Jersey game law prohibiting gunners from carrying their prey out of the state. Dr. O'Connor was arrested in the ferry slip on Saturday by Ware and Post, game wardens, and seven rabbits having been found in a package he carried he was taken before Justice Barr and fined.

The doctor immediately retained Judge Carrow to begin proceedings to recover the amount of his fines. He says that he was merely a common carrier and had been asked by Robert Delaney, an Atlantic City hotelkeeper, to carry the rabbits to a Mr. Murphy at the Hotel Scott in Philadelphia.

The outcome of the trial will be eagerly watched by sportsmen. The law in question has created a great deal of discussion in sporting circles, and its defeat would bring joy to the hearts of many an ardent gunner who has been collared to say or dispose of his luck in New Jersey.

ROBBED BILTMORE ESTATE

The Cashier and Timekeeper Indicted For Embezzling $11,000.

Asheville, N. C., Nov. 17.—Daniel C. Champlain, former mayor of Biltmore, and cashier of the Biltmore estate, and George R. Tennant, heretofore timekeeper for the estate, were indicted by the grand jury of the Superior Court for embezzlement of $11,000 of the funds from George W. Vanderbilt. Both men have left the state and their whereabouts are unknown. The finding of the grand jury is the result of investigations which have been conducted for the last two months. When the rumors of peculation of the estate moneys were first started a general denial was made at the offices. The sudden return of Mr. Vanderbilt from Europe and the employment of expert accountants to examine the books are said to have resulted in open charges being made against the men, who were dismissed from Mr. Vanderbilt's employ for "violating the regulations of the office." The master of Biltmore made no effort to prosecute the offenders, but at the special term of the criminal court last month Fred Huff, expert accountant, and E. J. Harding were summoned before the grand jury.

BANK CASHIER MISSING

J. H. Downing, of Portsmouth, Confesses Shortage and Disappears.

Portsmouth, Va., Nov. 17. — Joan H. Downing, cashier of the Portsmouth Dime Saving Bank, is missing and the board of directors of the institution are in possession of his confession to defalcations extending over a comparatively recent period. There has been no run on the bank. Downing was bonded by a Baltimore company for $5000.

The shortage was first suspected two weeks ago, and an investigation was made. Downing was confronted with the facts and acknowledged having used the bank's money. It is understood that another outside party is implicated. Downing left the city a week ago, ostensibly to go to Suffolk to raise funds with which to pay off part of his indebtedness. He has not been seen since he departed, nor is there any evidence that he went to Suffolk at all. He leaves a wife and two children here.

FOUND DEAD IN BATHROOM

Chevalier Petich, Ex-Italian Ambassador to Mexico, Died of Apoplexy.

New York, Nov. 18.—In the bathroom of his home in Ninth avenue was found the body of Chevalier Luizi Petich, former ambassador of Italy to Mexico. He had been dead for three days, and apoplexy is said to have been the cause of death. Chevalier Petich, who was 65 years old, was a man of many attainments, a scientist, inventor and scholar, but withal a recluse. Only one person of the neighborhood in which he lived is known to have ever talked with the chevalier.

Chevalier Petich came to the United States a few years ago with the intention of recouping his fortunes so that he might go to Buenos Ayres, where his wife is living. A dispossess notice was served upon him last Wednesday. Among his effects were found a small amount of money, a jeweled sword and chapeau and a handsomely engrossed set of resolutions eulogistic of the chevalier, signed by 100 delegates of a diplomatic convention held in Antwerp in 1885.

Big Granite Pier Disappears.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 14.—A new $23,000 granite pier has sunk into the earth and practically disappeared from view at Fort McKinley, on Great Diamond Island. Early in the summer it was discovered that the wharf, then under construction, was gradually sinking, so the contractor added courses until he had placed layers aggregating 18 feet, and still the wharf was not up to the contract height. One end has now disappeared into the mud, leaving only a small portion which rested on the point of a ledge. Quicksands are thought to be responsible for the disappearance. Soundings have been made to a great depth, but nothing substantial has been found.

White Girl Slays Her Colored Rival.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 15.—Mabel Barnes, a white girl, attacked Hersey Jones, a colored girl, on the street, cutting her throat from ear to ear, killing her almost instantly. The girls had quarreled over a negro named Oscar Peters. The Barnes girl is under arrest.

SLEPT ON THE "SIDEBOARD."

A Green Countryman's First Experience with a Folding Bed.

An old, gray-whiskered man, who had lived all his life on a small farm near Batavia, stopped at the hotel the other evening, says the Buffalo Express. He said he wanted a room for one night. He was sent up to the third floor. Later in the evening he went out, and didn't come back till midnight. He had evidently been enjoying himself. His breath smelled of whisky. He went up to his room, and that was the last seen of him until early in the morning, when a boy went to call him for his train. The boy got no answer when he knocked on the door, and he opened it and walked in. The folding-bed had not been let down. The boy had to look about for a moment or two before he discovered the old man. Then he heard a husky voice from up near the ceiling somewhere. He looked up, and there was the guest curled up on top of the bed, rubbing his eyes. He was fully dressed, with the exception of his big cowhide boots, which were standing on the floor.

"Say, mister," inquired the boy, "why didn't yer get into bed?"

"B'gosh!" shouted the man, angrily, "there ain't no bed. Here I've been curled up on top of this here sideboard all night without a wink of sleep. Ain't this a nice way to treat a man? Hey?"

INDIANS COPY CUSTOMS.

They Follow the Lines Marked by White Men.

The Alaska Indians, after learning many of the vices of white men, soon begin to live like them as far as possible and convenient, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Their one-story huts soon give way to two and three-story structures, and instead of building helter-skelter wherever there's a clear inch, they erect their dwellings in straight rows, carefully observing the building line.

When an Indian who came back from the states spread the news that the houses of the white men in big cities were all numbered, the fashion of numbering their own houses spread like wildfire. The Indians would pay no attention to the numerical values, but would select some number that pleased the eye.

The first house in the Indian quarter of Sitka is numbered 200, while the one next door is 400, the third 6,800, and then 450 and 1,300. The numbers which are most generally popular are those which end in the two naughts.

WATER SNAKE FIGHTS EEL.

Terrific Combat Which Finally Ended in the Eel's Escape.

"Did you ever know that there is a deadly antipathy between a common water snake and an eel?" asked the fisherman, according to the Indianapolis Sentinel. "Well, I never knew it until an experience I had in witnessing a fight between the two. Personally, I have the greatest dread of eels. I'm more afraid of them than I am of a snake, and you can imagine my chagrin when I happened to hook one on one of my fishing expeditions. I was afraid to touch it, and all I could do was to let it dangle in the air. I could not get it off my hook, and I was meditating what to do, when altogether unnoticed I allowed the slimy object to drop into the water. In a moment I saw a big water snake make a dive for it. At the first lunge it caught the neck of the eel squarely between his teeth, and I could see it sink its ugly-looking fangs into the eel's flesh. I waited anxiously to see the developments. With its grim hold still on the eel's neck the snake, quick as it takes to tell it, wrapped its sinuous body around its antagonist's neck in an effort to squeeze it to death. The body of the eel was too sleek, however, and the snake's coils, despite all it could do, would slip down into the water. Time and time again it tried to squeeze the life out of its antagonist, never for an instant releasing its hold on the eel's neck, but the body of the latter was too sleek for it and every time it would slip down. Finally the hook broke, and the eel made good its escape."

HANS AND LENA.

"Yen I Haf No York She Lofs Me Not," Says Malmgreen.

"I want you to put him somewhere so he can't bodder me so many times," said Mrs. Berglin, of 291 Market street, to Justice Kersten when she appeared against Hans Malmgreen, who she charged with being disorderly, says the Chicago Journal.

"What has he been doing?" said the justice.

"Veil he comes py my house all the time and he bodders me and bodders me. He never vorks, all he does is bodder me."

"What have you got to say about this, Hans?"

A tall German lad with light blue eyes hung his head in shame, swung one foot backward and forward, pulled his cap nervously, and said in a low, timid voice:

"We was in lofe, you know, and she went back on me two or three times already. When I haf vork she lofes me, and when I haf no vork she lofes me not."

"Well, you had better transfer your affections somewhere else, or if you bother this woman again I will send you to the bridewell. Do you understand?"

"Yes, chudge; I vill say to fer right here: 'Good-by, Lena, you vill never see your Hans again.'"

THURDAY, NOVEMBER 19.

SOCIAL SEPARATION---NOT SOCIAL EQUALITY.

The subject of social equality is one of the most widely discussed questions of the day, and we venture the assertion, that no question for many years, has been discussed more to the detriment of all concerned than this.

First. It is detrimental to the white people by placing the colored people in a false light before their white friends, by making them believe that the colored race wants to be put on an equal with them socially. Which they will never tolerate.

Second. It is detrimental to the colored race, by creating an enmity for them in the minds of the white people who would otherwise be their friends.

And this state of affairs is all brought about by a few unscrupulous and wily politicians, who teach this doctrine for personal gain, and with total disregard for the injury they do to others. So we say the discussion of social equality is wrong this stiring up strife be ween the races is wrong, and should be stopped, such discussions should not be tolerated by the better element of our citizens, either through the columns of our papers or from our platforms.

We do not believe there is a colored person in the South, with sense enough to keep out of the fire, that has ever thought of being recognized socially by his white neighbors, and do not believe they ever wish to be. And we are absolutely certain that no white man ever gave such a thing a thought. But; we do believe that the subject of social separation should be taught, and discussed by every one; both white and black, and we also believe that this will be the best, quickest, and most satisfactory way to settle the race problem that is now occupying our attention.

In other words grant the negro the same privilege within ourselves, that we ask of them. We all know that there are different classes among the white people, and when a white person, be they man or woman, commits a crime they are never recognized again in society, and we do not wish to be classed with them. So let us grant to our colored people the same rights. We all know there is as much difference in the colored people as there is in ourselves. So therefore, let us recognize the difference, and instead of classing all colored people together let us bestow merit where merit is due, and when a colored person lives an honest, upright life let us treat him with the respect due an honest man, and not class him with the rogues and thieves of his race, and in this way let them see that we admire their good qualities, and encourage them to be better and more useful citizens.

For we are sure this is all they wish for themselves, and all they expect from us. And this we can do without moving one inch in the direction of social equality between the races.

RAILROAD AND TRUSTS PAYS THE BILL.

Since our last issue a representative of the Post has been in Rich Square begging our people to allow him to send them the Post, daily or weekly, absolutely free. Among those approached in this way was the Mayor of the town.

It is often asserted, and believed by many, that the Post is published in the interest of the Tobacco Trust and Southern, Railway, and only claims to be Democratic to give it standing and influence. Its advocacy of ex-Judge Governor Daniel Russell for Chief Justice of our Supreme Court and its knifing Democratic candidates caused our people to lose faith in its Democracy.

The above is clipped from the News & Observer Every body who knows Joe Daniels knows for what purpose it found its way into his paper, and while a fight between two Democratic papers is none of our business, we would like to know when the Post advocated ex Governor Russell for Chief Justice, and knifed Democratic candidates. Will the Times inform us.

RATIO OF 25 TO 1.

"Twenty five people were reading the News and Observer in the Yarborough House dining room at breakfast yesterday morning and only one solitary man was reading the organ of the Southern Railway and the Cigarette Trust, called first the Raleigh Tribune and now the Morning Post.

"That is the ratio of how the two papers stand among educators and thoughtful men," said one of the foremost county superintendents yesterday.

The old organ, running with a wheezy engine on a side track over rotten rails, puffs and blows itself, but does not go anywhere."

We are sorry Josephus published the above, for we are the friend, of the county superintendents and we are quite shure if this statement of the foremost among them is understood to voice their sentiment, and it is found out by the people, the next Legislature will abolish the office for they will not be willing to trust the Educational training of their children to a set of men who have no more inteligence or appreciation of honesty than to choose the Observer rather than the Post, as their standard of public enlightenment. For the Post if it is a Democratic paper is edited by a gentleman of honor, and will tell the truth some times. But the News and Observer. Well there is still hope for the county Superintendents, for we suspect Modica is at his old trade and that the reverse of his ratio is true (viz) that it was 25 Posts to 1 News and Observer if, it was not, it ought to have been.

Our many readers will notice that this issue of The North Carolinian is dated Hertford, N. C., instead of Elizabete City. The North Carolinian has been purchased by T. C. Babb and P. B. Bowie and for reasons of economy and believing that they could give their patrons better service, they have moved the paper to this city They have added to to their plant a fully equipped job printing outfit and will run in connection with the newspaper a modern job printing office.

The paper will be improved in all of its departments and will continue in the future as it has in the past to fight for Truth, Prosperity and Justice, which blessings are enjoyed in our State under the Grand Old Republican Party.

Sam Parks has been again convicted, but the way of the transgressor who has the money to pay for legal advice is not particularly hard in New York, and Parks will probably die before his case gets out of the higher courts.—Mobile Register.

This is true but then the transgressors way in New York is harder than it is in North Carolina since the Simmons, Aycock, Daniels machine has been in power. They furnish the money of the state to defend the wrong doer.

Hon, Mark Hanna offered $1,000 for the conviction of any man guilty of fraud in the Ohio election. If Ohio Democrats are anything like NorthCarolina Democrats Mark stood a chance of being a pauper.

TO OUR FRIENDS AND THE PUBLIC.

The North Carolinian which for 35 years has been published in E. City has been removed to Hertford. This step was taken by its present owners and management after mature thought and council with its friends. The Carolinian has always been Republican in principle and will remain so, not from any desire to antagonize any one, especially any of those among whom it lives, But because it believes in the principles of the Republican party and believes if these principles were enacted into law they would redound to the good of our whole people.

The Carolinian comes to Hertford to make its home, the enemy of none, but the friend of all, its purpose and its labor shall be under all circumstances and at all time to defend the right and condemn the wrong from whatever source eminating, and no bias of religion or politics, shall swerve it from its sworn and determined purpose, devoted to the best interest of town, county and section, the best energy of the Carolinian shall be given in this direction and to this end, we ask your hearty and helpfull co-operation.

THE NOVEMBER ELECTIONS.

The election held in New York, Maryland, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Virginia, Iowa, Colorado, Rhode Island, New Jesey and Ohio; have resulted in large gains for the Republican party in New York, the mayoralty election resulted in a victory for the democrats by a plurality of 50,000. This is some what of a surprise as the Tamany organization in that city had been claiming the election of McClellan, democrat for mayor. by a plurality of 100,000.

The returns from Maryland show that state to have gone democratic by about 5,000, which is a considerable loss, as Maryland usually goes democratic by about 20,000.

In Kentucky the democratic plurality was 15,000. The Republicans claim to have proof of gross frauds in the election and there will be several contests. Bloodshed occured in Louisville and many fights took place throughout the State.

Massachusetts has gone Republican by increased majorities. Bates, Republican was elected over Gaston Democrat by a plurality of 36,000. The Legislature is strongly Republican.

New Jersey elected 4 of the 6 state senators and enough of the assembly to control both houses. Local issues caused democrats to gain slightly in two districts.

Iowa re-elected Cummings, Republican for governor, and balance of Republican ticket by a plurality of 60,000.

Colorado with returns all in gives Campbell, Republican, 7000 plurality over Wilson for Judge of Supreme court. This was the only state office voted for in Colorado.

Rhode Island returns indicate the re-election of Garvin, democrat, by greatly reduced plurality.

Ohio has gone Republican by the largest plurality ever known Herrick Republican for governor defeated Tom L. Johnson by over 150,000. The legislature is Republican by over 100 on joint ballot. This insures the re election of Senator Hanna. The campaign in Ohio has been bitierly contested and the democrats has used every effort to cut down the Republican vote, but in this most fiercely contested state the G. O. P. has made enormous gains.

In Virginia the Democrats have elected the Legislative tickets, but by greatly reduced votes. The full democratic strength was brought out as this legislature elects a U. S. Senator to succeed Senator Martin, The election throughout the country are very gratifying to the Republicans.

DEATH OF MRS. JOSEPH RIDDICK.

The death of sister Margaret Riddick consort of Brother Joseph Riddick of Sandy Cross on Friday the 13th. fills us with deepest sorrow. We had known her for years and can bare testimony to her many virtues. As her pastor for a number of years we had the opportunity of knowing that as wife, mother, and friend, she was all that a true believer in and a devout follower of the Lord Jesus Christ could be. We can safely say we have never known a more loving mother, a kinder friend, or a more devoted Christian than sister Riddick.

In all that goes to make up the true noble Christian woman, she may have had her equals but not her superior, her affectionate husband, her ten faithful loving children, her church, the whole community will miss her, her death leaves a vacuum that cannot be filled. But then let us not be disconsolate or break our hearts with grief as though she was gone for ever, gone indeed she is but not lost.

The star that sinks behind the western wave is gone, but not lost. It brightens in another hemisphere and gilds another evening with its rays, so our dear departed sister is gone but not lost she is a bright bird parted for a clearer sky, but ours still in heaven. For her husband, for her children, for her church, for her friends we can weep but not for her, she has simply quit the battle fields of earth for the harps and crowns of heaven, and the Angel of the covenant has already given into her hands a lyre whose strings can never jar, happy in the unclouded presence of her God she now surveys those unbounded plains of happiness over which the ravished eye of her immortal spirit wanders without a cloud to dim or limit to obscure the sight. No we cannot weep for her, but for her family and friends we can weep, and will with them pour our tears upon her new made grave.

Oh, that in this hour of their deep sorrow, we could administer some balm to the smitten spirits of her disconsolate husband and children, our dear friends, but we cannot There are griefs too deep and sorrowful for consolation, and every attempt to sooth is but to profane a sacred temple

We cannot therefore council you not to weep, for tears are the exponents of the hearts grief, and weeping drowns the consciousness of pain. Weep on then my dear friend and brother as weep you will and weep you must, but through your falling tears look to that bright morrow when you and your dear wife shall meet again, and hand in hand, roam the fields of endless light, and look upon the face of that dear redeemer whom though you had never seen yet you both loved. May Gods blessing rest upon and his holy spirit comfort the husband and children and friends of our dear departed sister is our prayer.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep-seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Fenner, Marion, Ind. who was entirely cured by the use of One Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me entirely of the cough, strengthened my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." Sold by Standard Pharmacy. *

We call your attention to Geo. W. Barrow's advertisement which appears in this issue If you are in need of anything in his line it will pay you to see him before you purchase your goods.

A Good Name.

From personal experiance I testify that DeWitt's Little Early Risers are unequalled as a liver pill. They are rightly named because they give strength and energy and do their work with ease.—W. T. Easton, Boerne, Tex. Thousands of people are useing these tiny little pills in preference to all others, because they are so pleasant and effectual. They cure billiousness, torpid liver, jaundice, sick headache, constipation, etc. They do not purge and weaken, but cleanse and strengthen. Sold by Standard Pharmacy. *

WANTED.

We would like to have the proceedings of the first Republican meeting ever held in North Carolina The meeting was held in the office of the 'Standard,' a newspaper published in Raleigh at that time by W. W. Holden The proceedings of the meeting were printed in pamphlet form and sent out over the State. If any of our readers are in posession of one of these pamphlets they will confer a great kindness on us by loaning it to us. T. C. Babb, Editor NORTH CAROLINIAN.

Cured of Piles After 40 Years.

Mr. C. Haney, of Genova, O., had the piles for 40 years, Doctors and dollars could do him no lasting good DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him permanently. Invaluable for cuts, burns, bruises, sprains, lacerations, eczema, tetter, salt rheum, and all other skin diseases. Look for the name DeWitt on the package—all others are cheap, worthless counterfeits. Sold by Standard Pharmacy. *

Allow me to bow my thanks to my members and congregation for the generous way in which they pounded me on last Friday night. Such expressions are not soon to be forgotten and by us greatly appreciated.

Often The Kidneys Are Weakened by Over-Work.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

It used to be considered that only urinary and bladder troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all diseases have their beginning in the disorder of these most important organs.

The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work.

Therefore, when your kidneys are weak or out of order, you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected and how every organ seems to fail to do its duty.

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys are well they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases, and is sold on its merits by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling you how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Weak Hearts

Are due to indigestion. Ninety-nine of every one hundred people who have heart trouble can remember when it was simple indigestion. It is a scientific fact that all cases of heart disease, not organic, are not only traceable to, but are the direct result of indigestion. All food taken into the stomach which fails of perfect digestion ferments and swells the stomach, puffing it up against the heart. This interferes with the action of the heart, and in the course of time that delicate but vital organ becomes diseased.

Mr. D. Kauble, of Nevada, O., says: I had stomach trouble and was in a bad state as I had heart trouble with it. I took Kodol Dyspepsia Cure for about four months and it cured me.

Augusta, Georgia, Paper Reviews Business Situation,

We gladly give space to the following taken from the Augusta Chronicle a Democratic paper published in Georgia, and we are sure the advice is timely and all of our Democratic cotemporaries of the state, would do well in following the example of the Raleigh Post and heed the warning, before it is too late.

PRODUCTIVE PROSPERITY VS. SPECULATIVE DEPRESSION.—"Try as we may, it is absolutely impossible for any of us to give a single good reason for the pessimistic note that is occasionally sounded, here and there, by a certain class of newspapers and public speakers.

What is there in the commercial, financial or industrial situation in this country to justify any but the most optimistic expression?

Does the fact that the Republican party stands committed, as it were, to a program of continued prosperity, cause men and newspapers of the opposite political faith to feel that it is their duty to discount every indication of prosperity and pick flaws in every statement that tends to show that the country is busy and prosperous? If so, away with such politics!

We ask this question because there is scarcely a newspaper in the south that isn't today seizing upon every little speculative flurry in Wall street, or elsewhere, to prove that the country is on the eve of a panic and destined to go to the demnition bowwows before the Republican party goes out of power. And, in many cases, the wish almost seems to be father to the thought.

The fact that certain large railroad systems have laid off several thousand men is held up as proof postive that the end to prosperity is in sight; without taking into consideration the single fact that these same railroads put these thousands of men to work some months ago making improvements, and now that the improvements have been made they have no further need for them.

These pessimistic editors and spellbinders, so intent are they upon proving that our prosperity is only a delusion and a snare, never stop to consider that these flurries on Wall street and the crash of trust companies are but the natural and inevitable results of over-speculation, and have no more bearing upon the real prosperity and the real business of the country than the gains or losses over a poker table have to do with the prosperity of a community.

They never stop to consider that there isn't one of the various properties whose stocks are being hammered down to nothing that isn't in a healthy condition and earning a good dividend on a legitimate capitalization. Not a mill or a railroad or any other industrial enterprise that isn't earning a handsome profit on the original investment, or on anything like the original investment; though it would require "prosperity," indeed, to enable properties that are legitimately worth, say, $1,000,000 to earn a dividend on $5,000,000, at which ratio they are usually capitalized after passing through the merger process.

This is the story as it applies to Wall street and to Baltimore—and it is all there is to it.

But what bearing has it upon legitimate business; upon your business and ours?

Simply this: Fright can bring on a panic in the commercial and financial world, just as it can bring on a panic if some fool cries "fire"—even though there be no fire. And the fools who are prophesying panic and crying "fire" can bring on a financial panic if they are not stopped.

Is there any sense in doing so—even for the sake of proving that the Republican party's boasted prosperity was all a myth?

Why not be sensible and look at the situation as it is. Why not look into the granaries of the west and see a food crop almost as large as we have ever raised; with prices good and the farmers' pockets full of money. Why not take a peep at the cotton fields of the south and see a yield fully as large, if not larger, than last year, with the price high enough to give every farmer a profit of $20 or more a bale.

Agricultural Department reports show all crops to be in a most satisfactory condition as compared with this period of former years. The total of corn wheat, oats, barley, and rye will be 3,907,000,000 bushels as against an average of about 3,506,000,000 for the past five years. It is also shown that our entire surplus of cotton and grain is in great demand by Europe at paying prices.

Why not see these hundreds of millions that the tillers of the soil are piling up, and ask if a few Wall street gamblers can take that sort of prosperity away from us?

Why not go into the mills and factories and see the toiling millions at work night and day—with always room for more—turning our raw materials into cash, and seek there signs of depression. Right here in the South alone, and that, too along the line of one railway—the Southern—there have been added already this year twenty-seven new manufacturing plants, including nineteen cotton mills and eight knitting mills, which have added to the total equipment 20,134 looms and 727,358 spindles; while there are now under canstruction twenty-three other mills, with an equipment of 14,025 looms and 500,312 spindles making a grand total existing and in sight 642 mills, 185,738 looms and 6,976,800 spindles.

Why not read some of these signs. as indicating the condition of the country, instead of continually harping on the failure of some speculator or promoter to market stocks that represent one-fifth tangible property and four-fifths water.

Why not go out along the lines of our railroads, North, South, East and West, and see them almost blocked with traffic. Why not notice this freight car famine that is everywhere prevalent, instead of calling attention to the slump in watered railroad securities. Why not study the increased gross earnings of practically every American railroad as evidence of what these properties are worth and what the country is really doing in a commercial and industrial way and deafen your ear to the stock-ticker a while.

If there were any trouble in that quarter there would be no railroad expansion, and yet we find that here in the South alone we have 54,000 miles of railroad today where we had less than 21,000 miles some ten years ago, with railroad construction going on all the time, quickening the currents of trade with products formerly worthless for want of access to market. Why not seek here signs of depression, instead of going to the bucket shop to find it?

Why not take a peep into the bank vaults of the country, and there see the millions piled up; scrutinize the published statements of every financial institution that is not engaged in speculative ventures and learn the story that their deposit and surplus accounts tell. Why try to scare the whole country to death because a few stock gamblers can't borrow the value of the blue chips on their white ones?

And why not look for the natural sequel to all this in the busy stores of every town and village in the country, where the merchants are unable to get their goods from the markets fast enough to supply the ever increasing demand?

What if speculative stocks are making new low records every week and some over-venturesome speculator is thereby carried to the walls. What has that to do with the real prosperity of the country.

As long as the productive sources of the country remain all right how can Wall street or anything else, keep back the rising tide of prosperity? Why not bring your common sense, instead of your fears and your predjudices, to bear on the situation. By so doing you will become an optimist, convinced that your country is all right and yourself going ahead all the time reaping your full share of prosperity, instead of being a soured pessimist, sitting and sulking, waiting for the crash to come, and inevitably missing the many good things that your optimistic and more energetic neighbor is taking away from you.

WHY HE IS A PROTECTIONIST.

Gatesville Man Gives Several Reasons Why He Is a Republican

MR. EDITOR:—I venture to write this article for publication in your valuable paper. The indications are that the main issue of the Democratic party is 1904 will be tariff reform and Grover Cleveland the presidential candidate.

I am a protectionist and have been for more than fifty years. I give some of the reasons why I am a protectionist.

1st. Because thrift follows the enactment of wise laws.

2nd. Because I love my own country better than I do foreign countries.

3rd. Because protection builds up our towns into cities, and enhances the value of our homes and lands.

4th. Because every dollar sent abroad to purchase goods that we can produce at home makes us a dollar the poorer.

5th. Because protection in this country gives labor better wages than free trade.

6th. Because it is better for this country to feed, clothe and house our own labor in this country than to support foreign labor in other countries with our money.

7th. No goods purchased abroad are cheap that take the place of our labor and own raw material.

The Federal Constitution was framed and adopted in 1787 and the first President and the first Congress chosen 1789, seven years had passed since the close of the war; there was peace without plenty, rest without recuperation.

The first act after organization was to pass a protective tariff bill to raise revenue. It would seem that under the extraordinary pressure for ready money, they would have devised a tariff for revenue only, (had they been Democrats.) It will be a cruel surprise to many modern politicians to know that these old statesmen passed a protective tariff law,

Among those who were guilty of agreeing to this atrocious political law were such men as James Madison, Richard H. Lee, Charles Carroll, Elbridge Gerry, Roger Sherman, Abraham Baldwin, and many others representing the brains and patriotism of the country at that time. Not a few of the members of that first Congress who assisted in the first tariff act, with its declaration in favor of the protection principle, had signed the Declaration of Independence.

Henry Clay said in 1824 "It is most desirable there shall be both a foreign and a home market, but with respect to their relative superiority I cannot entertain a doubt.

The home market is first in order and paramount in importance The cause is the cause of the country, and must and will prevail. It is founded on the interest of the people. It is as national as the granite deeply embedded in our mountains."

JUDGE PRITCHARD MARRIED MONDAY

The Ceremony Takes Place at Brides Residence In Washington.--Bride Almost a Carolinian

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—Former Senator Jeter C. Pritchard, of North Carolina, now a judge of the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, was quietly married this morning to Miss Lillian Saum, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs Joseph D. Saum, 1317 M street Northwest.

Owing to the ill health of Mr. Saum the original plan for a church wedding was abandoned, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Powers, of the Christian church, in the presence of only immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom.

Judge and Mrs. Pritchard left town immediately after the ceremony for New York, where they will spend a few days before returning to the Ebbit house, where they will live until the completion of their new home on Euclid avenue.

The bride is of North Carolina parentage, her mother is a native of Halifax county and a daughter of the late Dr. Clements.

RAYNOR BELL'S BODY FOUND

Body Floats to Surface of Pasquotank River at Elizabeth City Saturday.

Elizabeth City, Nov, 14.—The body of Mr. Raynor Bell who disappeared from his home in this city about three weeks ago was found floating in the river near the ferry slip.

Mr. Bell disappeared from his home at 2 a. m. three weeks ago. He was sitting through the night with his daughter, Miss Geneva, who was ill at that time. About 2 o'clock he left the house and that was the last time he was seen alive. It is thought that Mr. Bell's mind was affected by grief over the illness of his daughter and that he deliberately drowned himself. His body was burried in the family burrying ground at Camden.

Mr. Bell's daughter, Miss Geneva, who was ill at the time of her father's disappearance, died last Thursday night and her body was taken to Camden Saturday for interment.

Not a Sick Day Since.

"I was taken severely sick with kidney trouble I tried all sorts of medicines, none of which relieved me. One day I saw an ad of your Electric Bitters and determined to try that. After taking a few doses I felt relieved and soon thereafter was entirely cured and have not seen a sick day since. Neighbors of mine have been cured of Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Liver and Kidney troubles and General Debility." This is what B. F. Bass. of Freemont, N. C. writes. Only 50c at all druggist

TO INVESTIGATE ELECTION LAW,

Congressman Dick Introduces a Resolution To Investigate Suffrage Laws.

Washington, Nov 14—Representative Dick, of Ohio, yesterday introduced a suffrage resolution which after reciting the law regarding suffrage says:

"Whereas, it is a matter of common information and belief that the rights of some male citizens being 21 years of age to vote at elections named in the said amendment to the Constitution named aforesaid, except for participation in the rebellion or for other crime is denied and abridged in certain States, therefore,

Resolved. That the matter be referred to the Committee on Election of the President, Vice-President and Representatives in Congress, whose duty it shall be and who shall have full and ample power to investigate and inquire into to the validity of the election laws of the several States and the manner of their enforcement' and whether the right to vote at any election for the choice of elector for president, or vice-president, of the United States, representative in Congress, or the members of the Legislature in any State is denied to the male inhabitants of any of the States, being 21 years of age and a citizen of the United States. except for participation in the rebellion or other crime.

Hertford Locals Briefly Told.

Mr. W. T. Campen spent Tuesday in Norfolk on business.

Miss Essie Stokes of E. City spent Sunday with friends in Winfall.

Mr. Monival Walker spent Sunday with his mother at her home in Tyrell county.

Mrs. Chas. Turner of Henderson is on a visit to her father Mr. T. G. Skinner.

Revs. J. N. Booth and N. P. Stallings exchanged pulpits on 2nd, Sunday,

Mr. T. S. White and wife returned from their bridal tour to the northern cities, on Monday.

Mr. J. K. Rea of Edenton the popular salesman of the Southern Oil Co., was in our town monday.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. LaFayette Winslow to Miss Gertrude Cofield of Cisco.

Miss Maude Campen left Tuesday to visit friends and relatives in Columbia.

Capt. W. R. Alexander and Edd Walker of Norfolk was in town Tuesday visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. Guy Newby, secretary to Hon. Jno. H. Small was in town a few days last week in route to Washington, D. C.

Mr. Brooks Whedbee formerly of this place but now of Newport News is spending a few days with his mother in our town.

Mr. J. D. Stewart and Mrs. Alula Julian the popular and acomplished daughter of Mr. U. W. Speight, will be united in the holy bonds of matrimony today.

We are glad to learn that Mr. T. G. Skinner Jr., who had an operation performed on his head some days ago is improving, and hope to see him out again soon.

We are sorry to learn of the sudden death of Mr. Walter Saunders at his home near New Hope in this county on Sunday the 15th. Mr. Saunders was in his usual health when he went from the house to the lot for the purpose of hitching his horse to go to church, but was taken violently ill and died before he could be carried to the house. Mr. Saunders was about 40 years of age and leaves a family and host of friends to mourn his loss.

Mr. T. S. White and Miss Mattie Toms one of the most popular young couples of this town were united in marriage at the home of the bride's father, Mr. Z. Toms, on Main St. on Wednesday the 4th. at 11,30 o'clock, the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Tuttle, after which they were served with dinner and boarded the afternoon train for a tour to New York, Washington and several of the other northern cities. THE CAROLINIAN extends its congratulations to the happy couple.

The sudden death of Mrs. E A. Leigh at her home in Winfall on Sunday night the 8th. filled the whole community with sorrow. She retired Sunday night in her usual health without complaint, and died during the night apparently without a struggle, she was found dead in bed Monday morning by the seryant. Miss Blanch Trublood a young lady who had spent the night with Mrs. Leigh and slept in bed with her, had gone home without discovering that Mrs, Leigh was a corps.

Mrs. Leigh was truly a good woman and everybody mourns her death, none knew her but to love her, and none ever came in contact with her but to be benifited. In every relation of life she measured up to the full statue of a true, noble, Christian woman. She leaves two sons and three daughters with a host of friends to mourn her loss.

Since the appearance of THE CAROLINIAN three weeks ago, the office has been moved from E. City to Hertford and the publication of the paper from now on will be from this town, this is the reason for the non appearance of the paper last week, but having gotten our office moved and fitted up in its new quarters this will not occur again, and we will give our most strenuous efforts to make the paper better in the future than it has ever been in the past. THE CAROLINIAN is now, as it has been for the last third of a century, a Republican paper run for the best interest of North Carolina and the Republican party, and we appeal to every liberty loving citizen in the State for their support.

Doesn't Respect Old Age.

It's shameful when youth fails to show proper respect for old age, but just the contrary in the case of Dr. King's New Life pills. They cut off old age. Dyspepsia, Jaundice, Fever Constipation all yield to these perfect pills. 25c, at all drug stores.

These are some things a Christian boy can do who wants to work for Jesus:

Be frank.
Be polite.
Be prompt
Be obliging.
Obey his parents.
Keep himself tidy.
Refuse to do wrong.
Never use profanity.
Never learn to smoke.
Be useful about home.
Keep out of bad company.
Never laugh at a coarse joke.
Learn his lessons thoroughly.
Never make unnecessary noise.
Never be disrespectful to old age.
Be kind to his brothers and sisters
Take the part of those who are ill used.
Never make fun of another because he is poor.
Never play marbles for "keeps" it is gambling.
Fail, if he cannot pass his examination honestly.
Never tell or listen to a story that he would not repeat to his mother.
Try to lead his companions to Jesus by speaking a little word for him when he can.
Surely the opportunities are thick on every side for a Christian boy to do Christian work.—Baptist Outlook

A Runaway Bicycle.

Terminated with an ugly cut on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. It developed a stubborn ulcer, unyielding to doctors and remedies for four years. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured. It's just as good for Burns, Scalds, Skin Eruptions and Piles, 25c. at all drug stores.

The supreme court will devote this week to the docket of appeals from the Twelfth district It is only a moderately heavy one, and the two state cases on it are of minor importance, both being liquor cases.

The very sharp division among the Methodists in this state in regard to Dr. Kilgo and the presidency of Trinity College was never more pronounced than it is just now. A Methodist says that this controversy has affected the church colleges, not only trinity, but the other ones, too, and he added that Trinity, which now has but a small attendance, ought to have thrice as many students.

It is learned at the office of the state labor commissioner, upon inquiry as to the number of textile mills in operation in this state, that there are 211 cotton, 43 knitting, 14 woolen and 3 silk—a total of 301—which shows a considerable increase over last year. The increase in the number of spindles and looms will be even greater than the increase in mills will indicate, so many additions having been made to the old mills.

From what can be gathered, it does not appear that the council of state has as yet changed its mind in regard to the lease of the Atlantic and North Carolina railway. Six weeks ago, upon a vote by the council, it was unanimously against a lease. Of course it is merely the advisor of the governor in such matters.

COMPENSATION FOR CROSSES.

Heavier the cross, the better Christian;
This is the touchstone God applies.
How many a garden would be wasting
Unwet byshowers from weeping eyes!
The gold by fire is purified;
The Christian is by trouble tried.

Heavier the cross, the stronger faith;
The loaded palm strikes deeper root;
The wine-juice sweetly issueth
When men have pressed the clustered fruit;
And courage grows where dangers come,
Like pearls beneath the salt sea foam.

Heavier the cross, the heartier prayer;
The bruised herbs most fragrant are.
If sky and wind was always fair,
The sailor would not watch the star;
And David's Psalms had ne'er been sung,
If grief his heart had never wrung.

Heavier the cross, the more aspiring;
From vales we climb to mountain crest;
The pilgrim of the desert tiring
[illegible] for the Caanan of his rest;
[illegible] rest in sight,
[illegible] wings her flight.

Heavier the cross, the easier dying,
Death is a friendlier face to see;
To life's decay one bids defying,
From life's distress one then is free.
The cross sublimely lifts our faith,
To him who triumphed over death.

Thou crucified! the cross I carry—
The longer may it dearer be;
And lest I faint whilst I tarry,
Implant thou such a heart in me
That faith, hope, love may flourish there,
Till for my cross the crown I wear!

From the German of Schmolk.

QUEEN VICTORIA'S THRONE.

Composed of Very Ordinary Materials, It Is Still Worth Sitting On.

The throne of England, so splendid in its rich trappings of silk, velvet and gold wire lace and tassels, is simply an old-fashioned, high-backed chair. It has been in use for more than 600 years, but the early history of the old oaken relic and the name of its maker are both unknown. The wood which composes this "throne" is very hard and solid, as may be imagined when it is known that the chair has been "kept in the dry" and well covered with rich cloth of various kinds since the days of Edward I. The back and sides of the chair were formerly painted in various colors. The seat is made of a rough sandstone. This stone, which is believed to possess talismanic powers, is 26 inches in length, 17 inches in breadth and 10½ inches in thickness. Numberless legends are told in connection with this wonderful stone, but the truth probably is that it was originally used in Scotland as a "coronation stone" upon which the Scottish kings were seated while undergoing the ceremonies connected with being crowned "king of the realm of Scotland."

HOW HE WON THE GIRL.

A German Cavalier Raced with a Railroad Train.

The young German cavalier had failed to pop the question, and the young lady left the house in dudgeon, telling their mutual host that her mother had no use for such a chicken-hearted son-in-law, says the New York Herald.

A little later the host repeated this to the youth, who really loved the girl, and had merely delayed proposing until he could do so at her own home. His horse stood near the door, and he sprang it to the saddle and galloped after the train, which had left a quarter of an hour before. Owing to benign providence and the management of this country railroad, he caught the train before it had reached the next station, which was Kraow. He spied the young lady at the window of a first-class compartment, and, riding up to the train before it came to full stop, almost shouted breathlessly: "My dear Miss ——, I ask for your hand. Yes, or no?"

At the station, just as the train arrived, a "Yes!" was joyfully given by the young miss and tearfully approved by her mamma.

An Accommodating Justice.

A Philadelphia magistrate, who recently distinguished himself by holding court in the street to hear a case concerning two men who were brought to his house while he was at dinner, broke his record one Sunday recently by leaving his devotions in church to hear a case out in the street and then going back to resume his interrupted prayers. Two men were arrested in the 16th precinct one Saturday night for a slight breach of the peace. Next morning they were willing to pay their fins and wanted to be released at once. They were taken in the patrol wagon to the magistrate's house, where it was learned that he was at church. The wagon was driven to the church, and the judge was quietly called out. He heard the case, inflicted the usual fines, which the prisoners paid, then discharged the men and went back to his pew.

SUDDEN DEATH!

The Community Shocked.

"Last evening, just after tea, while Mr Thomas Hartman, a prominent and highly respected citizen, apparently in the best of health and spirits, was reading a newspaper the sheet suddenly fell to the floor; he placed one hand over his heart, gasped, and sank back in his chair, evidently unconscious. The family were stricken with consternation, and immediately summoned a physician. But it was too late. The old gentleman was dead. Physicians gave heart disease as the cause."—Hudson Herald.

Every day the papers contain statements similar to the above. Even youth is no defense against heart disease, and the awful rapidity with which it is claiming victims forces upon all a conviction of its prevalence.

Reader, if you have a symptom of this dread disease do not hesitate a moment in attending to it. Delay is always dangerous. Not in heart disease too often fatal. Some symptoms of heart disease are shortness of breath, fluttering, or palpitation, pain or tenderness in left side, shoulder or arm, irregular pulse, smothering, weak or hungry spells, fainting spells, dropsy, etc.

Charles Raven, York, Pa., writes: "I suffered from heart disease 22 years. Frequently my heart would seem to jump into my mouth, and my condition made me very melancholy. Physicians gave me no relief. I became so much worse that I was not expected to live, but was induced as a last resort to use Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure. The second day I felt greatly relieved, and at the end of ten days I felt like a king. My gratitude is unbounded for expression."

Joseph Cockwell, Uniontown, Pa., aged 73 years, says: "For four years previous to beginning the use of Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure I was afflicted with heart disease in a very severe form. Had taken all so-called cures, but with no benefit until I used Dr. Miles' remedy, one bottle of which cured me."

J. D. Bothards, High Point, Ia., makes the following statement: "I was a wreck from heart disease and stomach trouble when I began using Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills. As a result of their use I am well."

Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is positively free from all opiates or dangerous drugs. Dr. Miles' Nerve and Liver Pills, 25 cents per box, five boxes $1.00. Sold anywhere. Free book at druggists.
